

DeRiemer Adventure Kayaking
Bhutan Class III+
October 18 – 30, 2026
Sample Itinerary

We first traveled to this enchanted Himalayan, Buddhist Kingdom in 2006 and have returned nearly every year since. Each time feels like a gift. Our aim for you is two fold; that you paddle in the Himalaya and that you are exposed to as much of the people, culture and surrounding countryside as possible. We want you to experience the magic of Bhutan and the kindness of these people we have come to know and deeply appreciate.

Our Class III+ Kayak Trip runs concurrent with the Land Tour where each group can do separate activities during the day but stay in the same lodging. Two of the days we'll have a chance to join the Land Tour on stretches of river they'll be rafting.

We are very excited about this itinerary. It is customized so we can attend the Jakar Tsechu in the Chumkar Valley, Bumthang. This is an annual religious festival held in a centuries old Dzong (think fortress). Bumthang Province is halfway across the country from the arrival town of Paro. Our adventurous journey is designed to take full advantage of each day, while still being open to the special moments that always present themselves in this unique land. We spend each night in nice, comfortable accommodations.

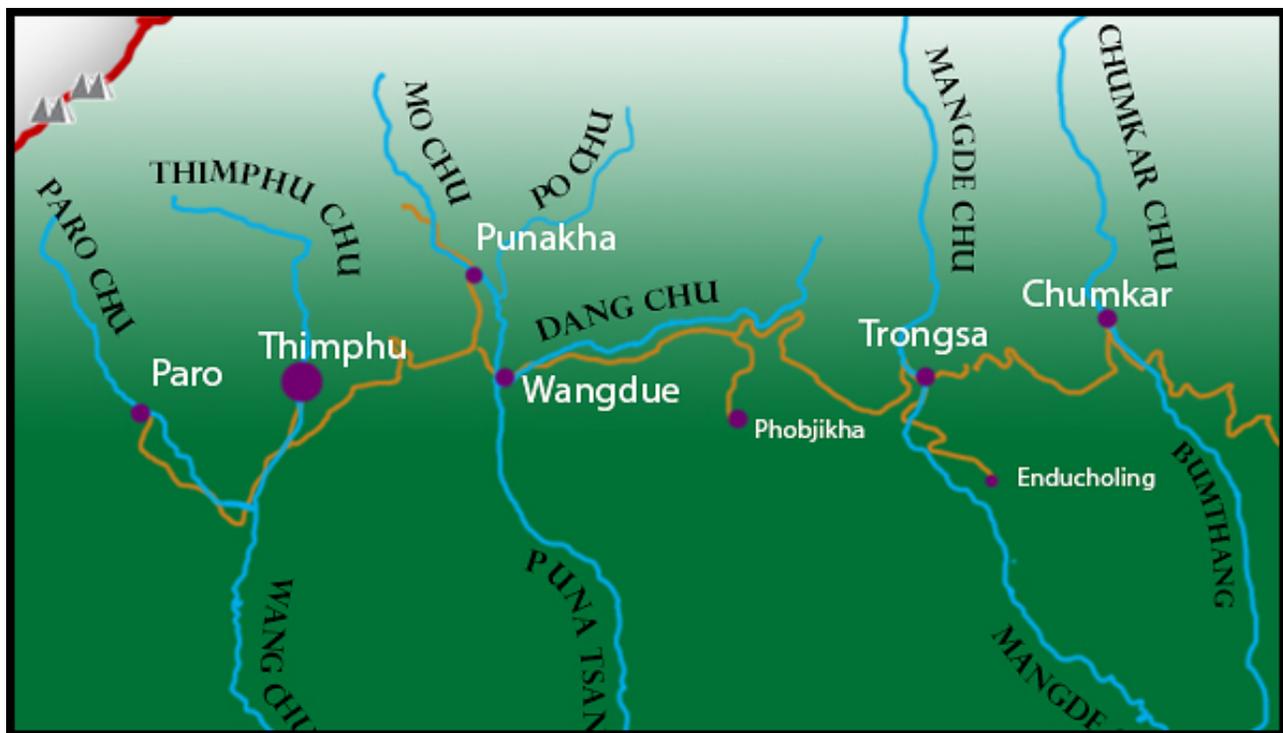

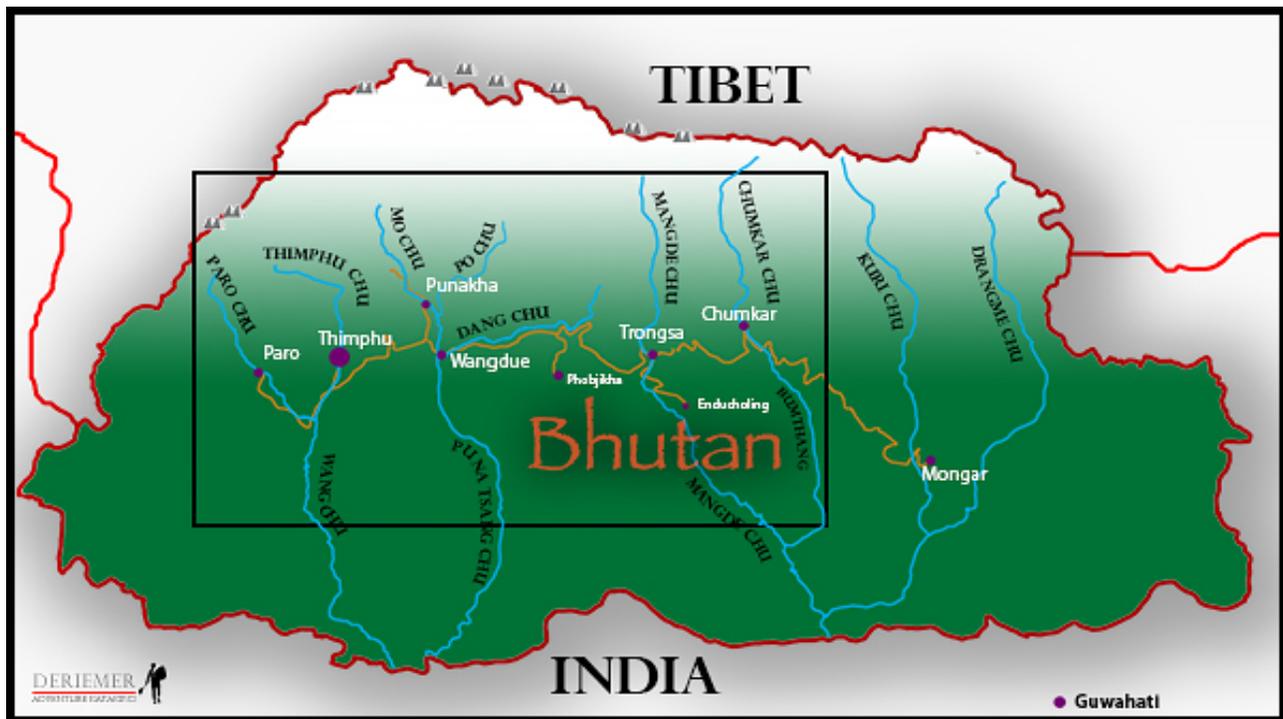

We know your vacation time is precious. Rest assured that your journey to the other side of the world is well worth the effort. I look forward to sharing with you this country we find so special.

Tashi Delek,

Phil DeRiemer

Day 1: Oct 18, Sunday

Flying into the beautiful valley of Paro, you glide over the tops of snow and pine covered ridges that are dotted with remote monasteries. Located in western Bhutan, this valley is a patchwork of rice fields where the farmers use harvest techniques that haven't changed for hundreds of years.

We meet you at the airport and, depending on your arrival time, go to lunch. The rest of the day we wander the town and shops, visit the national museum and/or Paro's majestic Dzong (fortress), and outfit our kayaks. We lodge in Paro (approx elevation 7800 ft.).

Day 2: Oct 19, Monday

Today we board a flight to Chumkar, located in Bumthang province, halfway across the country. The views of the Himalaya during this flight are spectacular. We fly over much of the route that will take us the next 2 weeks by road to return, paddling and sight-seeing along the way. The Jakar Tsechu takes place at the Jakar Dzong (foretress) during our stay and is attended by Bhutanese from far and wide. We arrange our day to attend this colorful pageantry of masked dances. The remainder of the day we spend exploring sites in the beautiful Chumkar Valley. We stay 2 nights in Chumkar/Bumthang (approx elevation 8000 ft.).

Day 3: Oct 20, Tuesday

The Jakar Tsechu continues and for part of the day we attend the best of the Tsechu activities. Leaving the festival, we head up river for a picnic lunch alongside the Chumakr Chu (river) then paddle down valley. Afterward, it's your choice to explore more of what this beautiful valley has to offer, or shop, or return to the hotel to relax. Lodge in Chumkar./Bumthang

Day 4: Oct 21, Wednesday

In the early morning we'll catch the unfurling of the giant Jakar Dzong tapestry. From there we drive to Trongsa, the one-time center of government under the first king, Ugyen Wangchuck. Highlights during our stay include a visit to the sprawling Trongsa Dzong or the Watch Tower Museum. We spend the night in Trongsa (approx elevation 6800 ft.).

Day 5: Oct 22, Thursday

This is a driving day that takes us to the beautiful Phobjikha Valley. Known as the Valley of the Black-Necked Cranes, it is the winter home of these majestic, migratory birds. To get there we drive over Pele La (pass) at 11,122 ft. En route we have lunch and finish our day with a hike on the valley trail. We spend the night in this beautiful valley of Phobjikha (approx elevation 9500 ft.).

Day 6: Oct 23, Friday

Some of the morning we spend in the valley, including a visit to the Gangtey Gompa Monastery. After which we begin our drive to the Punakha Valley and our lodging there.

Day 7: Oct 24, Saturday

A drive up the Mo Chu (Mother River) valley brings us to a short hike to a hilltop temple; the Khamsum Yulley Namgyal Chorten. There is a commanding view of the valley's rice terraces and meandering river. We descend for lunch then paddle the Mo Chu. There is a paddle raft for the non-kayakers and we all run this stretch together. A late afternoon visit to the Sangchen Dorji Lhuendrup nunnery perched high above the valley ends a very full day. Lodge Punakha.

Day 8: Oct 25, Sunday

Today we paddle the Po Chu (Father River). This begins with a tour of the Punakha Dzong, an impressive 16th century structure and center of Buddhist learning. From here we walk the countryside and traverse the longest footbridge span in Bhutan. We can walk a riverside trail overlooking rice fields in mid-harvest. Our vehicle meets us at our put-in, and a picnic lunch. There is a paddle raft for the non-kayakers here. The run ends floating past the Punakha Dzong at the confluence with the Mo Chu. This will be our last night in Punakha.

Day 9: Oct 26, Monday

An early morning start begins the drive to Thimphu, the Capitol. This leg of the journey takes us over the stunning pass at Dochu La at 10,302 feet. If we have clear skies, there are views of the snowcapped Himalayan range that separates Bhutan from Tibet. We lunch and sightsee in Thimphu. Lodging in Thimphu (approx 7600 ft.).

Day 10: Oct 27, Tuesday

There is an optional, pre-breakfast visit to the Buddha Dordenma statue, at one time the largest sitting Buddha in the world. Here, we enjoy sunrise over Thimphu valley and the city before returning to the hotel. After breakfast we can sightsee, wander and shop until lunch. We'll then gear up to run the Thimphu Chu (also called Wang Chu) downstream of town. We'll either have a picnic lunch or return to Thimphu for lunch. Lodging Thimphu.

Day 11: Oct 28, Wednesday

Our last day of paddling on the trip is the beautiful Paro Chu. We'll leave Thimphu and work our way toward Paro town. Before getting there we'll paddle the Paro Chu, chances are you saw some of this run on the flight into Bhutan.. From take-out there is a short drive to Paro and our final lodge. We spend the next 2 nights in Paro (approx 7800 ft.). Lodging Paro.

Day 12: Oct 29, Thursday

Our early start to the day sees us at the trailhead for the most famous monastery in the country, Takstang, known as "Tigeress' Nest". The monastery is the most sacred in the country and a must-make pilgrimage for all Bhutanese. A fully enlightened being, Guru Rimpoche, or Padmasambava, first came to Bhutan in 810 AD, bringing Buddhism to the country. He meditated here in a cave that is now a temple within the Dzong. Lodging Paro.

This vigorous hike of 2000 vertical feet on a well-worn path is worth the effort! It has fantastic views of the monastery and the Paro valley below. After the hike, a late lunch is followed by the final chance to wander Paro and do last minute shopping. A celebratory dinner will be in order for our last night in-country here in Paro.

Day 13: Oct 30, Friday

After breakfast, and depending on the timing of your departure flight, we'll tour some more then say our goodbyes before leaving the Land of the Thunder Dragon!
